A ReFood truck

Wasting food is bad news for all of us... Some people take your waste food and bury it in the ground. This eats up space, and makes gases which are harmful to us and the world around us. At ReFood we don't like to let good food waste go to waste and we want your help to let people know why wasting food is bad.

ReDesign a ReFood truck

Every day our ReFood trucks pick up food waste from around the UK and take it to our recycling plants. We then turn food waste into something useful like energy or fertiliser.

On their journey around the country, our trucks help to spread the message about reducing food waste to everyone who sees them.

If you could design your own ReFood truck, what would it look like?
